CATCHMENT TO REEF JOINT RESEARCH PROGRAM

Task 7: Achieving outcomes: adoption of tools through training of the current and new generation of practitioners
Project Leader: Professor Richard Pearson (JCU)

An essential component of this program is conversion of the project outputs into outcomes. While the immediate research outputs are likely to be adopted by relevant agencies and practitioners, successful broad-scale adoption will require a proactive and coordinated approach. This will be facilitated by a program of capacity building, which will involve training through workshops, post-graduate projects, etc.
